

Making and Selling a Million CREAM SEPARATORS and the Knowledge Gained

Thirty years ago Dr. De Laval invented the first practical centrifugal cream separator. Since that time the De Laval Separator Company has manufactured and sold one million DE LAVAL machines. These separators are today in use in every civilized country in the world. They have been operated and criticized everywhere. Through all these years suggestions for their improvement have come by the thousands from very quarter of the globe. These have been investigated and tried out from time to time. The best have been adopted. The 1908 improved DE LAVAL cream separators represent the thirty years' accumulation of such ideas and experiences. They represent the knowledge and experience gained through the manufacture and sale of one million machines. If in your lifetime you had milked one million cows, wouldn't you feel that you knew how to milk a cow just a little bit better than someone who had milked but one thousand? That's the way we feel about the cream separator. Our knowledge of its manufacture and practical use is many times greater than anyone else's. If you are thinking of buying a separator can you afford to ignore the knowledge gained by making and selling a million separators? We don't believe you can. We offer you the 1908 DE LAVAL for your most critical examination. An illustrated catalogue will be mailed for the asking. Write for it today.
